Guía práctica de trabajo unidad I

Content/contenido:

Quantifiers: We use quantifiers when we want to give someone information about the number of something (usamos cuantificadores cuando queremos dar a alguien información sobre el número o la cantidad de algo)

Some

We use some in affirmative sentences and also when we offer or ask for something (usamos some en oraciones afirmativas y también cuando ofrecemos o pedimos por algo).

Examples:

I have some money.

Would you like some tea?

I want some apples, please.

Any:

We normally use the quantifier any in negative and interrogative sentences. Usamos normalmente el cuantificador any en oraciones negativas y en oraciones interrogativas)

Example:

-Do you have any children?(Oración interrogativa)

-Did you see any friends? (Oración interrogativa)

-We don't have any children. (Oracion negativa)

-I didn't see any friends. (Oracion negativa)

Extra information (Informacion extra)

We use any in a positive sentence when the real sense is negative.

- I refused to give them any money. (I did not give them any money)
- She finished the test without any difficulty. (she did not have any difficulty)
